Supreme Court Sanctions Limited Use Of Informers

Troubled Hoffa Plans New Try To Stay Free

WASHINGTON (AP) — James R. Hoffa is in the toughest spot of his troubled nine-year reign over the giant Teamsters Union after the Supreme Court rejected appeal of his jury-tampering conviction.

But "he took it philosophically" and immediately started laying plans to continue his battle to stay out of prison, a close associate said of Hoffa's reaction to Monday's court decision.

The Teamsters president was sentenced to eight years after his 1964 conviction in Chattanooga, Tenn.

Will Fight

Hoffa, re-elected last July to a five-year term as chief of the 1.7-million-member union, has no intention of giving up without a fight to the last, informed sources within the union said.

Hoffa's lawyers could stave off execution of the sentence for months, these sources said.

"He has three shots at it," said one source — "a rehearing (before the Supreme Court), a stay of execution and a writ of habeas corpus to show why he should not be detained."

Hoffa's attorneys hope to come up with new evidence that could upset the conviction, it was indicated.

However, neither Hoffa nor other union officials would comment officially.

Two Convictions

Hoffa, first elected Teamsters president in 1957, successfully survived a long series of federal prosecutions until 1964 when he lost the jury-tampering case and was also convicted in Chicago and sentenced to five years for fraud.

It was also in 1957 that the Teamsters were kicked out of the AFL-CIO on corruption charges after Hoffa's predecessor, Dave Beck, was convicted of income tax evasion.

Many union leaders would like to invite the Teamsters back into the AFL-CIO to gain the added strength of the world's biggest union.

But George Meany, president of the 13.5-million-member AFL-CIO, has steadfastly refused to consider inviting the Teamsters back as long as Hoffa remains in control.

Skilled Workers Upset UAW Pact With Lear Siegler

DETROIT (AP) — Skilled tradesmen in a United Auto Workers Union local for the first time have used their new veto power to reject a contract approved by a majority of a company's production force.

Tradesmen in UAW Local 174 voted 44-26 Monday to reject a two-year contract offer by Lear Siegler Inc.'s Automotive Division, while production workers in the local voted 170-185 to accept and end a strike which began Dec. 2.

The veto could have major consequences in new contract bargaining next year between the UAW and the automotive industry.

The strike came at the expiration of a previous contract with American Metal Products Co., now a Lear Siegler division. The new pact reportedly provided an 11-cent hourly wage increase, fully paid hospital-medical insurance for employees and their dependents and pension improvements.

The department's conclusions were drawn after a Viet Cong broadcast Saturday accused the United States of "Machiavellian and perfidious" schemes in pressing "the sinful aggression" in Vietnam.

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department officials believe the Viet Cong are unwilling to accept Pope Paul's appeal to end the Christmas truce in the war in Vietnam into a peace-seeking cease-fire.

"We regret that the Viet Cong have apparently rejected the sincere appeal of Pope Paul in the cause of peace," the department said in a statement issued Monday. "The Viet Cong response obviously lessens very greatly the prospects for any positive results."

Cautious To Keep Privacy Rights Intact

WASHINGTON (AP) — In careful language the Supreme Court has sanctioned limited government use of informers and undercover agents to combat crime.

That, in sum, is the essence of the court's actions Monday in upholding the convictions of Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa, former union lawyer Z.T. Osborn Jr., and Duke Lee Lewis, a small-time narcotics peddler.

But the justices moved cautiously as they endorsed, in special circumstances, government gambits that some of them found displeasing.

Claims Tricked

Hoffa, Osborn and Lewis of Boston all claimed they had been tricked by the government: Hoffa by a paid Justice Department informer recruited from union ranks, Osborn through a tape recorder strapped to the back of a man he thought was working for him and Lewis by a federal agent posing as a marijuana customer.

But their claims did not cause the court to reverse their convictions. Hoffa's eight-year prison sentence for jury tampering was affirmed 6 to 1, Osborn's bribery conviction was upheld 8 to 1 and, in the third decision, Lewis' narcotics conviction was affirmed 8 to 1.

Right Of Privacy

The right of privacy, even against government intrusion, is protected by the prohibition the Fourth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution puts on "unreasonable searches and seizures."

However, the high court has taken varying views on whether it is an insurmountable bar against government action.

Monday the court found in the circumstances of the three cases before it sufficient reason to tip the scales in favor of what Chief Justice Earl Warren called "official deception in order to gather evidence for criminal prosecutions."

No Force

Justice Potter Stewart, in the controlling opinion in the Hoffa case, took pains to point out that government informer Edward Grady Partin, a fellow Teamsters official, did not enter Hoffa's hotel suite "by force or by stealth."

Partin reported back to the government that Hoffa was trying to bribe members of a federal jury trying him in Nashville, Tenn., on a conspiracy charge.

Hoffa, said Stewart, "was not relying on the security of the hotel room; he was relying upon his misplaced confidence that Partin would not reveal his wrongdoing."

Ruby Cancer Incurable; Says Doctor

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The physician in charge of Jack Ruby's treatment said today Ruby's cancer has developed too far to be cured by surgery.

Dr. Jack Barnett said the only hope for a cure will lie in chemotherapy, which is treatment by drugs. He ruled out radiological treatment because of the widespread aspect of the cancer.

Barnett is associate professor of internal medicine at Southwestern Medical School, a few steps from Parkland Hospital where Ruby was taken Friday from his jail cell.

The physician also disclosed at a morning news conference that another tumor was found Monday in the pleura—the lining of the chest. He said it was the same sort of cancer found in a lymph node in Ruby's neck Saturday.

Ruby, 35, is the non-drinking, non-smoking onetime night club operator who killed Lee Harvey Oswald, later identified by the Warren Commission as President Kennedy's assassin.

"It is incurable by surgery," the doctor said. "Surgery might be used for benefit, but not for a cure."

SIX PERSONS, all young, died in the wreckage of these two vehicles in Muskegon early Sunday. The auto at left, a 1967 convertible, speeded through a stop sign and struck the other vehicle broadside, police said. Two men, both 21, died in the convertible and four persons were killed in the other car. A fifth hovered near death Monday. (AP Wirephoto)

Bounces Back From Operation:

Ike Plans Spring Golf

By The Associated Press
"The general had a good night," Walter Reed Army Hospital reported this morning, one full day after the one and three-quarter hour operation.

The word on the five-star general's condition Monday night had been "quite satisfactory."

"Multiple large and small gallstones were in the gallbladder which was removed," said the bulletin issued shortly after 5 p.m. Monday. These were the stones which Eisenhower jokingly had referred to as "rocks."

The former first lady, Mamie, was staying near her husband in the executive suite at the hospital. The luxurious accommodations, otherwise known as the presidential suite, include bedrooms, a sitting room and a solarium.

January will go to Palm Desert (near Palm Springs), Calif. He will stay in Palm Desert the usual length of time. He hopes to be playing golf by early spring."

Eisenhower aides said that up to 5 p.m. Monday well over 1,000 messages had been received from well-wishers.

Murphy Picked For GOP Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — California Sen. George Murphy appears headed for the GOP job that helped make Barry Goldwater famous — hunting votes and money for Republican Senate campaigns.

Goldwater, who served four years as chairman of the Senate Republican Campaign Committee, said he thinks Murphy, 64, should get the post.

Sen. Thurston R. Morton of Kentucky, who holds it now, said the Californian apparently has the votes to take over when GOP senators fill the position in January.

Morton is leaving the post to prepare his own re-election campaign. Goldwater plans a Senate race for the Arizona seat now held by Sen. Carl Hayden, a Democrat.

Murphy leans toward conservatism, Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, who also wants the job, is among the Senate's more liberal Republicans.

But Goldwater said in an interview that ideology has nothing to do with his view. "I think somebody like Murphy will be more universally accepted, particularly in the West," he said.

Doctors Watchful
An operation 10 years ago in the same hospital for ileitis, a constriction of the intestine, plus two major heart attacks and a minor cerebral stroke in the patient's history, made the doctors particularly watchful.

When the general was wheeled back to his suite Mrs. Eisenhower, son John and brother Milton were waiting. The general smiled at his wife, said Brig. Gen. Philip W. Maloney, commanding general of the hospital.

The late afternoon bulletin outlined Eisenhower's plans after his hospital stay, which could last 10 days or two weeks.

Plans California Stay
"Following his discharge from the hospital," the statement said, "Gen. Eisenhower expects to return to his farm in Gettysburg, (Pa.) then early in January."

Pact Accord Averts Strike

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Screen Writers Guild of America and Los Angeles movie studios reached agreement Monday night on a new contract, thus averting a threatened mid-night strike.

An offer by management was ratified shortly before the deadline at a Guild meeting at the Century Plaza Hotel. Terms of the contract were not disclosed.

Rep. Dingell Calls For Criteria On Clean Air

WASHINGTON (AP) — A clean air campaigner said today "we believe an aroused citizenry is the basic ingredient for the success of control action everywhere."

Mrs. B. Brand Konheim of New York, president of Citizens for Clean Air, Inc., made her suggestion in one of several dozen papers presented at panel sessions of the National Conference on Air Pollution.

Other suggestions aimed at speeding action on control included a system of effluent fees to be imposed on polluters by the federal government, tighter regulations and stiffer penalties for violators of state enforcement rules, granting industry tax incentives and limiting travel of motor vehicles into heavily contaminated urban areas.

Rep. John D. Dingell, D-Mich., criticized the Department of Health, Education and Welfare for not setting air quality criteria under the federal Clean Air Act.

He said such criteria are a necessary first step in setting uniform emission standards without which he said pollution cannot be controlled.

Dingell said he would introduce legislation to tighten federal pollution control law.

He said more than 7,000 U.S. communities have a smog problem. "There is really no way to accurately judge just how much property damage occurs, but it is substantial. Estimates vary greatly, ranging upwards from $10 billion a year."

Mrs. Konheim said, "I would like to look almost exclusively at air pollution as an esthetic problem, for I believe that no aspect of dirty air so motivates public anger as its assault on the senses. The American public has reached a new threshold of awareness of its environment."

"Esthetic considerations, however, are rarely the factors which motivate the experts, the engineers, and the professional control officials. But they are what motivates the citizens."

Africans Split Over Sanctions On Rhodesia

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.

(AP) — African members of the United Nations tried to agree today on amendments to put more teeth into Britain's request to the Security Council for mandatory sanctions on Rhodesia's major exports.

Informed sources said the Africans were split over rival amendments by the moderates headed by Nigerian Chief S.O. Adebayo and the militant wing led by Marof Achkar of Guinea.

The moderate draft reportedly would extend the proposed embargo against Prime Minister Ian Smith's rebel regime to imports of ore and oil products. It would add coal and manufactured goods to Rhodesian exports proposed for boycott.

The extremists want to pinpoint South Africa, which most African delegates believe has supplied the bulk of Rhodesia's oil since Smith's government declared independence 13 months ago and which has said it would continue "normal" trade with Rhodesia regardless of the Security Council's action.

Sources in Salisbury, the Rhodesian capital, said Monday only a third of Rhodesia's oil is coming from South Africa and that the rest comes from the neighboring Portuguese colony of Mozambique.

The United States threw its weight behind the British resolution Monday and made no mention of an oil embargo on wider application of sanctions.

In an address before the council, Chief U.S. delegate Arthur J. Goldberg also opposed the demand for use of British force against Rhodesia often trumpeted by the Africans.

Goldberg ruled out violent measures which might produce a showdown with South Africa, Portugal and the other white regimes in southern Africa.

Cong Reject Peace-Seeking

12 DAYS TILL CHRISTMAS

Shanties Signal Ice Fishing Start

The ice fishing season is here. At least six fish shanties were in place off the Kipling shore of Little Bay de Noc Monday on several inches of ice which covered the Bay north of a line across to Stonington from the southern shore of Gladstone.

State Police and Conservation officers warned, however, that the ice is still not strong enough for automobile traffic.

Fish shanties already on the ice have been pushed out by hand. The ice is smooth without snow covering.

Elmer White, owner of White's Bayshore Cabins and baitshop at north Gladstone, said there is some four to five inches of ice on the bay. He said the only place he would be skeptical of walking is in the channel cut by a tanker which cleared from the Theisen-Clemens terminal at Kipling last Friday.

"I think you'll see a few more shacks every day now, if the weather stays cold," he said. "By the weekend there should be quite a few."

White said that although no reports of any large perch catches have reached him yet, some northern pike are being taken.

The ice fishing season generally begins in December and, depending on the cold of the winter and start of spring thaw, lasts until the end of March or April.

Maddox Certain He'll Be Seated

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A check of Georgia legislators, who will elect the state's next governor, gives Democrat Lester G. Maddox almost a 4-to-1 edge over Republican candidate Howard Callaway. But many lawmakers still were undecided.

The General Assembly, consisting of 250 lawmakers, has 229 Democrats — 46 out of 54 in the Senate and 183 out of 205 in the House. The legislature is expected to select the next governor Jan. 10, the day after the next legislative session begins.

The Associated Press sampling shows: Maddox 33, Callaway 9, undecided 33.

But the two rivals gave different viewpoints on the outcome of the U.S. Supreme Court's 5-4 ruling allowing the legislature to choose the man they want to fill the governor's chair.

"I think it would be very tough on a man to be named governor if he did not win a majority of the votes by the people," Callaway said.

But Maddox, hailing the decision, said he was sure he would be Georgia's next governor because of legislative support.

Some legislators, dissatisfied with both candidates, reportedly have started a movement to block either one from claiming the governorship.

J. P. Kennedy Is Satisfactory

BOSTON (AP) — Joseph P. Kennedy, 78, former ambassador, is reported in satisfactory condition at New England Baptist hospital where he is being treated for a "generalized circulatory condition." He entered the hospital Dec. 5.

Speaker

Newly elected Michigan judges will go back to a judicial training seminar, Dec. 14-16 at Boyne Highlands to increase their skill and understanding of the judicial process.

Study will feature lectures and discussions by noted jurists and law professors including Judge Bernard H. Davidson, Negaunee, on "Pleadings and Motions."

THE NEW GLADSTONE high school gym is taking shape, but according to general contractor Noah J. Piquette of Menominee will not be ready until about Feb. 15. Gladstone's basketball team closes its home schedule Feb. 17 against Manistique. School officials had previously hoped that the Braves might be able to occupy the new gymnasium for most of its home schedule. Piquette said the electrical work is behind schedule and that until electricians finish installation of piping, painting cannot begin. (Daily Press Photo)

Electric Power Peak:

Climbs 90% In Decade

The consumption of electric power in Escanaba has increased about 90 per cent within the past decade and studies are beginning to determine the advisability of increasing the generating capacity of the municipal power plant.

Average, the use of power in the city increases about 6 per cent per year, and 1966 is expected to be no exception, said William Van Effen, superintendent of the city's electrical department.

Escanaba's power generating station, located on the north bay shore, was financed with utility revenue bonds and was completed in June, 1958.

The plant is operated by the Upper Peninsula Power Co. under a contract that provides Escanaba with the power it needs, with surplus power sold to the U. P. Power Co. The contract is for 30 years, with renegotiation at 10-year intervals.

Peak Coming
"I'm sure that both the city and the Power Co. have found the agreement mutually beneficial," said Van Effen.

The municipal electric generating station has a capacity of 25,000 kilowatts.

Laser Device Hailed As Car Accident Bar

DETROIT (AP) — A new laser device that could reduce the danger of automobile accidents has been announced by the Radio Corporation of America.

The light emitting device — termed a solid state injection laser — marks the introduction of vastly improved techniques for attaining automobile safety, said John Farese, RCA vice president of electronic components and devices. He explained:

"In an automobile collision warning system, the device could help eliminate accidents caused by unexpected stops and turnpike fatigue."

The laser transmitter unit would be mounted on the front of a car. Invisible infrared signals reflected from the car ahead would indicate the relative speed and closing rates of the laser-equipped car and the one ahead.

"If the laser system determines that the closing rate is too rapid for safety, it could activate an audible signal or flashing light on the dashboard to alert the driver. If the driver fails to respond to these signals, the car's brakes could be applied automatically."

Farese said the device also can be used as the heart of communications systems for ships, aircraft and spacecraft.

Seven of the world's ten highest mountains lie within Nepal's borders.

The peak at the generating plant so far this year was 15,590 KW on Dec. 2, which was partially due to the operation of the Chicago & North Western's ore thawing shed.

This peak for ore thawing causes no problem, however, because the power for that purpose can be interrupted and is supplied at a time when other demand is down, Van Effen explained.

The real "Christmas peak" in power consumption in the city will be within the next few days, due to combining holiday lighting, short daylight hours, stores opened additional hours, and electric stoves going all the time in cooking Christmas treats, Van Effen explained.

Continues Climb
Last year the holiday peak was 11,328 KW at 5:45 p.m. on Dec. 20.

That figure was almost reached in Escanaba this year on Nov. 30 with 11,040 KW.

"This indicates an increase of about 600 kilowatts in our normal load over last year," said Van Effen. "This year at Christmastime we might peak at 11,600 to 11,800 KW."

How the electric power use has boomed in the city is indicated in a comparison with the consumption of 10 years ago, when it was about 30 million KW.

"This year we expect that consumption will total about 55 to 56 kilowatt hours, up nearly 90 per cent in 10 years," Van Effen explained.

Steady Under Way
The City of Escanaba has retained the engineering firm of Black & Veatch, who designed the plant, to serve as consultants in a study of future loads, power costs, and analyze the need for additional generating capacity.

"The handwriting is on the wall," said Van Effen. "With power use increasing as it has, it is necessary to have the facts on which to base decisions regarding the future of the plant. It takes about three and one-half years to put another generator on the line — so studies cannot wait until the last minute."

Meanwhile the city is also preparing to begin in June, 1967, contract renewal negotiations with the U. P. Power Co. for the continued operation of the plant by the Power Co.

The contract calls for negotiations beginning in June, 1967, with the contract expiration period in June, 1968. Because of the satisfactory experience under the operating contract, renewal for an additional 10 years is anticipated.

Kiesinger Tilts Toward France
BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger today based his new West German government firmly on the proposition that its relations with President Charles de Gaulle and France will determine the future of Europe.

"The facts of European geography," Kiesinger said in his first major policy statement, "and the balance of history show that under present conditions there is a high measure of agreement in the interests of our two peoples and countries."

He added that "together with France, the oldest ally of America, we consider indispensable a solid alliance between the free European nations in the process of unification and the United States of America, in whatever form the structure of this alliance will take in view of a changed world."

The new chancellor said strengthening and development of the Atlantic alliance "is an important matter to us" and his government "will forget none of the great help which the United States has given us in the past two decades."

But he did not say what he would do about American and British demands that West Germany buy more of their goods to compensate for what they lose in gold and foreign exchange by stationing troops in West Germany.

Business Leader Taken By Death

One of Escanaba's leading businessmen who was active also in civic affairs, John D. Boyle of 1616 9th Ave. S. died in St. Francis Hospital at 2:15 p.m. Monday. He was 59 years old.

Mr. Boyle became ill about six months ago and was seriously sick for the past six days. Born in Crystal Falls on Nov. 24, 1907, he graduated from the Iron Mountain High School and attended Marquette University, Milwaukee for three years. Before coming to Escanaba in 1937 he had lived in Iron Mountain.

He was president of the Home Supply Co., a member of the board of directors of the Escanaba National Bank, was a member of St. Patrick's Church, Knights of Columbus, and Elks Club. His activities included the office of past president of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, and he was a member of the Country Club and the Highland Golf Club.

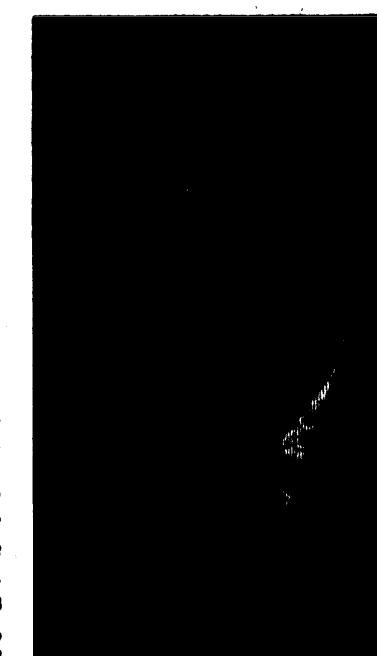

Mr. Boyle was an ardent bowler and participated actively in the leagues.

Surviving are his wife, the former Frances Burkart, three sons, Daniel of Escanaba, Michael of Minneapolis, and James, in his junior year at Michigan State University; and one sister, Mrs. Norman Jansen, Tokyo, Japan.

Friends may call at the Alto Funeral Home from 3 to 9:30 p.m. Wednesday. The Knights of Columbus will recite the Rosary at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, and parish prayers will be at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Funeral services will be held at St. Patrick's Church at 9 a.m. Thursday with the Rev. Msgr. Martin Melican officiating, and burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery.

There will be no honorary pallbearers at the request of the family. Members of organizations with which Mr. Boyle was affiliated who wish to attend the services will meet at the Church at 8:45 a.m. Thursday.

Fronczak Boy Adoption Final

CHICAGO (AP) — It's final: Chester and Dora Fronczak can adopt the baby boy they think is their own.

A final adoption decree signed Monday in Circuit Court made the couple, whose infant son, Paul Joseph, was kidnapped in April 1964, the legal parents of a foundling from New Jersey whom the parents think is the kidnapped child.

The couple has been caring for the 8½-year-old child named Paul Joseph since June, when they got him from a Newark, N.J., agency. The agency had cared for the child since he was found abandoned July 2, 1965.

He was the only one of more than 10,000 orphans to pass all tests designed to find Paul Joseph.

The Fronczaks say they are sure the baby is theirs. Officials say this will never be certain unless the kidnaper is apprehended.

A woman dressed as a nurse took the infant from Dora Fronczak's arms in Michael Reese Hospital shortly after he was born. A nationwide search failed to turn up any trace of the woman.

Mrs. Fronczak is the former Dora Vuksan of Wells, Wis. Joseph Bartol, 31, Gladstone, is her sister.

Loggers Must Have Permits

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department Monday reminded logging contractors that they must obtain a permit to build logging roads and to pile logs or pulpwood on the state highway right-of-way.

State Highway Director Howard Hill said damage has resulted in the past from construction of forest access roads without thought of drainage and that piling of forest products on the right-of-way has caused damage to ditches and created traffic hazards.

Permits can be obtained from any county road commission or highway department district office, Hill said.

Gucssing On Taxes

The biggest unanswered question of 1966 is: Will the President ask for an increase in taxes?

President Johnson now has most of the information on which he will base his decision but he hasn't indicated how he'll act.

Administration experts have predicted that this fiscal year's federal government spending will total $127 to $130 billion and that revenues will be about $117 billion, so that although the President cut $3.3 billion from such works as highway building, urban development and hospital construction aid, the deficit still could top the 1959 postwar record of $12 billion.

Last year, when the excess of spending over income called for a tax increase to avoid a heavy deficit and curb inflationary pressures, the Administration with accounting tricks made the budget look almost balanced, but this year the truth is showing more and the deficit is apparent.

The President's problem in deciding on a tax increase is a difficult one. The picture is not black and white. Government can, for instance, reduce the inflationary pressure and the deficit by reducing government spending on domestic programs. It is disinclined to do this, although it talks a lot about it.

Besides the problem of deciding how much competition government can give the private sector without bringing on serious trouble, there's the problem of deciding whether the economy hasn't cooled off its inflationary heat already to a point where anti-inflationary measures might throw us into an economic slump.

Some private business economists expect 1967 to be a year of economic recession or serious pause and most Washington agencies admit that the leading indicators of economic change have been falling since last spring. But they can cite that while recessions followed such declines in some earlier years, vigorous resumption of economic expansion followed such declines in others.

Plant expansion, which contributed to the inflationary heat, is slowing down and some economists fear that a tax increase would overbrake the economy.

President Eisenhower's chief economic adviser, Arthur Burns, told a bankers conference that powerful forces already are at work within the economy to reduce its steam. These include shrinking profits, declining economic expansion, construction costs above investors' estimates, suspension of the investment tax credit, a weak stock market and less happy investment mood; and uncertainty about a tax increase. If the tax increase is aimed at cooling off the economy, suggests Burns, it's not necessary, because his thermometer shows the mercury dropping without it.

That will be good news to Lyndon Johnson, who isn't anxious to be author of a tax increase in 1967 with the presidential election coming up in 1968.

The Hungry Days

This is the season we watch the calendar — just so many days left for shopping, for mailing Christmas cards, for arranging holiday parties with our families and friends.

To half the people on earth, dates mean nothing. Tomorrow will be like today and yesterday — days of hunger and suffering. World leaders warn that the gap between food supplies and people in the underdeveloped countries may lead to mass starvation. The United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization says: "The world food situation is now more precarious than at any time since the period of acute shortage immediately after World War II."

The holiday-season CARE Food Crusade appeal offers a way for Americans to help, with gifts in the true spirit of goodwill and concern for mankind. By combining public contributions, U.S. donations of farm foods and host government support toward local costs, CARE seeks to feed 40,000,000 persons in 82 countries during the coming year, in the name of the American people.

To complete this plan CARE needs $6,500,000, to provide 6,500,000 food packages at a dollar per package. The gifts will nourish famine victims in India, war victims in South Vietnam, helpless children and despairing adults on four continents from Latin America to Africa. You can turn their hungry days into days of new life and hope. Mail your check to: CARE Food Crusade, Guardian Building, Detroit, Mich., 48226.

Red China A Puzzle

By RAY CROMLEY

SAIGON (NEA)—There are some things going on in Red China that are very difficult to explain.

Mao's political existence and Lin Biao's probably will depend on their ability to feed the Red Chinese people in the year ahead.

Yet Mao and Lin of late seem to be doing some things that may make it impossible for them to prevent widespread hunger and starvation on the mainland.

Current reports indicate Red China's crops this year will be unsatisfactory. This means that Peking again will have to import large quantities of grain to feed the people.

These grain imports will require large amounts of foreign exchange. How then explain the actions of a government that seems determined to slash its major sources of this critical foreign exchange?

Take two examples: Take the sad experience outlined by a Chinese resident of Mardin in a long talk with this reporter:

"We overseas Chinese have a strong feeling for our families at home in Red China."

"If we make it a little good we like to help our relatives have a better time of it."

"But if they don't get our help, we stop sending it."

"Lately, with the troubles our people are having in Red China, they do not get a benefit from our help."

"So fewer of our people send money home."

"Our remittances were a great source of income (foreign exchange) for the mainland. We sent a lot of money."

Half of the foreign exchange Mao so badly needs for importing wheat, rice and other goods to prevent a revolution has come from these remittances from overseas Chinese.

These remittances have dropped off sharply of late, not only from the Philippines, but from Thailand, South Viet Nam, Malaysia and Hong Kong as well. This is not Red China's only economic blunder.

The Japanese Communist party has split with Red China. This has angered Peking that the Communist Chinese government started making things very difficult for the so-called Japanese "friendly" firms—those which provided a foreign exchange earning outlet of sizeable proportions.

Working with "friendly" firms from a number of countries, for example, the Red Chinese had succeeded in undercutting Japan in some types of cotton goods in the world markets.

Now the Red Chinese are cutting their own throats by making it more difficult for co-operating firms. The Red Chinese action is all the more strange in that these businessmen had nothing to do with actions of the Japanese Communist party.

The trade of pawnbroker existed in China as early as 3,000 years ago, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

December Is Decision Time

Tax Paring Deadline Near

By RAY DE CRANE

By the end of December all doors will have closed on your opportunity to trim your 1968 income tax.

After Dec. 31, the only thing you can do is to take full advantage of every tax-saving device on a fixed set of figures. So the moves you make in these few days can establish a successful savings pattern before all opportunity is lost.

This opportunity for reducing your yearly tax is available whether you are a low, medium or high bracket taxpayer. These are the three areas to watch carefully—income, exemptions, deductions.

Many people are in a position to control their income in the final month and set the stage themselves for diverting income from one year to the next.

A doctor, dentist, architect, accountant or lawyer, to cite a few groups, can defer income until next year by the expedient of delaying billing to patients or clients. This type of move would be made by one who already has substantial earnings for the year and is fearful of moving into too high a tax bracket with the addition of still more income.

Deferring income is a risk at best. You are gambling on an unknown—what the next 12 months might bring. Furthermore, there is a possibility of a higher tax rate for next year that would minimize any possible gain in a postponement of income. Safest move in this direction is to let it go natural and take the income when it normally comes due.

Time might be better spent establishing definitely your exemptions and credits for dependents.

Do you have a son or daughter who graduated from high school or college last June and then started to work? Perhaps you furnished total support until graduation time. But how will you fare when support is reckoned on the full year's basis? Remember, unless you furnished the chief support for the full year you can't claim the dependent on your return.

Weight carefully your contributions toward support as contrasted to the support furnished by your son or daughter. If the amount is fairly equal, perhaps an additional expenditure on your part this month could swing the balance in your favor and give you an additional $400 dependency credit on your return.

Perhaps you are helping to support an aged parent. Again chief support is required before the dependency credit is allowed. An additional $50 check before year's end might save you money if your claim is now a borderline one.

Remember, too, that the medical expense deduction for persons over 65 changes drastically beginning Jan. 1. If you are furnishing the chief support of your mother or father, then all the medical expenses you pay for them are fully deductible on a dollar-for-dollar basis.

In 1967, medical deductions for senior citizens will be handled as they are for all under-65 taxpayers, that is, not deductible until they exceed 3 per cent of total income. If you have any unpaid medical bills for your over-65 parent whom you are supporting, be sure to pay them before year's end. It could be advantageous to borrow the money to make the payment and win the deduction.

Next, quickly review your allowable deductions—contributions, medical expenses for yourself and your children (if you are under 65, remember only the excess of 3 per cent of income is deductible), interest, taxes and "miscellaneous" deductions.

Compare your tentative total with your alternatives—10 per cent of income, $1,000 if income is $10,000 or higher.

If you plan to settle for a flat deduction allowance instead of itemizing, then defer until next year, if possible, payment on any deductible items.

If you are close to the flat allowance figure, then pack in this month all those deductible items you can so that it will be worth your while to itemize.

Investors who had gains or losses—either actual or paper—in 1968's turbulent stock market may find it profitable to review their portfolio this month.

Trades made in December will be completed before the end of the year, making it possible for investors to take full advantage of any tax savings.

While tax advantages should not be the only consideration in taking a loss, investors might well consider the possibility of using this means to offset gains for the year.

Beware of this hazard, however. Should you take a loss in an effort to cancel a previous gain, you might want to buy right back into the market, convinced that prices are depressed and there is a chance of a future gain. Don't sell 100 shares of ABC Co. to take a loss and then, within 30 days before or after the sale, buy another 100 shares of ABC Co. for its long-term profit potential. If you do this, you will create a "wash sale" and Internal Revenue will not allow the loss.

TV Cable
I wonder if you appreciate the significance of one of your recent stories about the rebuilding of the Escanaba area cable TV service. From that story, I would judge that the cable system will pick up the FAA broadcasts of current weather for aviation, and will put these reports on one of the TV channels.

If this is correct the reports could then be put on the radio for the benefit of travelers, and by warning them of conditions along the highways, reduce the risk of being snowbound, as were so many persons in the central and eastern U.P. following the Thanksgiving weekend.

Incidentally, regarding the blizzard from Marquette to Escanaba and on to the east, here in Ironwood, the weather was more of the banana belt type. We had a little freezing rain and snow Saturday and a little drizzle changing to light snow Sunday night. So I was surprised to have the local radio station broadcast a notice to a local man enroute to Escanaba, to turn back and come home, because the meeting he was to have attended had been called off—because of blizzard conditions at Escanaba.

Later, I was razzed about the Escanaba "banana belt", but answered that I had simply brought it to Ironwood with me, and so the weather conditions were reversed. Of course after we were alerted to what was happening in Marquette and Delta counties, we turned the radio and heard full reports through the day.

We get the "Press" by mail, usually on the day after issue and find it interesting to read about the people and groups that held our interest the past 15 years. Best wishes for the holidays to the staff, I am

STORM COURTESY
I was among the many people that were held up on the highway in the storm over the Thanksgiving weekend.

I would like to say it was quite an experience and considering everything that took place, we in our large group were very fortunate.

Our bus driver, from out of St. Ignace, was sick—but that man held the bus on the road and never once in those 18 hours that he was with us did I hear him complain.

Everyone was great and the college students were very well behaved.

We turned and went into Gould City and were made very welcome by the townspeople.

The Civil Defense unit is be commended on the job they did. We were in their hall for about nine hours and the food was brought in and we were warm and glad to be able to stretch our legs after sitting in the bus for nearly 12 hours on the highway.

Our driver and our other bus went back and picked up people from their cars and brought them in.

One young man was very tired but he pitched in and helped clear tables as people finished and was a big help.

He also passed out his goodies that he had on the bus and he and a few others walked out into the storm to get some sandwiches to bring back. The distance was great but they offered on their own to go.

I will always be grateful to those who were so light-hearted and able to smile through those hours instead of complaining. Also to the bus drivers of coaches No. 3636 and 3628 from St. Ignace to Rapid River. They proved that no matter what, there is always a bright side.

LAKEES
Homer L. Trombly, a seaman aboard the steamer Lackawanna, sends the following editorial from the Port Huron Times-Herald:

"Anyone who has sailed the Great Lakes or who has had a close friend or relative aboard the Lakes fleet, can roughly imagine those last moments of the Daniel J. Morrell . . . The ship is an oasis in a hostile element, to have that oasis begin to disintegrate before your eyes is the stuff of nightmares."

"Two impressions predominate in the vanished wake of the Morrell: One is a community-wide sympathy for the families of the victims, the other is that these lovely lakes are still a primitive power. They can never be taken for granted, not even by the experts."

Trombly adds:
"Yet it is a fact that sailing is far less hazardous than driving or riding in an auto."

"The ocean men who change to a lake often have comments such as: 'I'm not used to sailing in a bath tub,' or 'Why, these are only little ponds.'"

"Some of these chaps change their attitude after a good shaking up on any of the five Great Ponds."

"The Lackawanna is now loading 375 thousand bushels of winter storage wheat and barley at Superior, Wis., for Detroit."

"The last blow caused a bottleneck for grain loading at Duluth-Superior. Twenty-two ships were at anchor just north of the Soo a few days ago. Now many are here waiting their turn to load grain."

"This grain will be unloaded late in winter, or early spring, in time for the opening of lake shipping for 1967."

A good guesser would have no trouble with this six diamond contract. He would play a couple of rounds of trumps, possibly fool around with the top spades and hearts and eventually lead the jack of clubs from dummy.

Or he might just win the first heart in dummy, draw two rounds of trumps and lead that same jack of clubs in order to get East's reaction to this quick play.

He would let the jack ride to West's ace and collect the slam and rubber bonuses.

A good bridge player would not have to make the diamond play.

He would take a good look at his ten of spades and see that it was a possible winner. Then he would win the heart lead in dummy, draw the same trumps, cash dummy's king of spades, come to his own hand with the heart king, discard one of dummy's clubs on the ace of spades and ruff a third spade in dummy. East would have had to drop one spade honor on the ace and the other on the third spade lead. Then South would come to his own hand with a trump lead and discard another one of dummy's clubs on the ten of spades.

He would have been lucky to get that spade break. The chance of finding queen-jack-doubleton or queen-jack-small was only about 7 per cent but investors have been getting rich for years on less than 7 per cent and this chance involved no risk at all. If South failed to drop the queen and jack of spades he could still try the club play.

Her letter was way out but your answer was perfect. I loved what you said about ulcers. And you were so right.

Ulcers are a sign of interpersonal problems but it isn't always the husband or the wife, Ann. It can be somebody else who lives under the roof.

Many married couples have a mother or a mother-in-law or a stepbrother or a great-aunt living with them. These additions can be real trouble and often there is no way to get rid of them short of a family rupture. You have done a lot of good by declaring that a husband and wife owe their first allegiance to one another, and a third party who makes trouble between them should not be tolerated. I know about these things because I have both ulcers and hives — and a relationship.

Education is not wasted if the student learns how to learn.

Workers Okay Bell Contract

LANING (AP) — The Communications Workers of America have ratified a contract with Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

The contract is virtually the same as one that was rejected in a statewide ballot less than two months ago. The agreement was approved by a 5-1 margin. Eighty per cent of the state's 17,000 members mailed in their votes.

In Detroit, Dan Smith, vice president of personnel for Michigan Bell, said:

"Although the agreement will result in added wage costs of about $10 million a year, we will try through continued efficiencies and technological improvements to keep rates at their present levels."

Instrument Man In Area Retires

APPLETON, Wis.—Milton A. Schreiner, special accounts executive at the Appleton office of the Foxboro Co., who has been selling automatic control to the paper industry for years, switched to piece work on his retirement this month.

He will assist his wife, Georgia, in her homestead, holiday and gift decoration business. The Georgia Schreiner Studio manufactures Christmas tree ornaments and been busy in the shape of animals and people of different lands. Schreiner products are sold nationally.

He praised the ability of the many Wisconsin specialty paper mills to compete successfully with the nation's largest paper producers. "These specialty mills live by their wits," he said, "and automatic control has been a key to their success."

With many customers in the Wisconsin paper mill towns, Schreiner became a familiar figure in Green Bay, Wisconsin Rapids, Wausau, Beloit, Marinette and Rhinelander, as well as in Escanaba, Mich. Although he specialized in paper instrumentation after coming to Appleton, Schreiner frequently received calls for engineering advice from former accounts in the petroleum, steel, chemical and gray iron foundry industries throughout the Midwest.

Independents Among Economists Can See No GNP Gain In '67

NEW YORK (AP) — Some independent economists are anticipating poorer conditions for 1967 than are many of the industrial economists whose views have been widely publicized.

A large disparity is appearing in the forecasts for the coming year.

A 1967 Gross National Product of $780 billion seems to be the estimate of many industrial economists, those who forecast for the insurance companies, manufacturers and stock market people.

That would mean a sizeable gain of about $30 billion in the total output of goods and services, perhaps the best indicator of the strength or weakness of the economy.

But, some highly regarded private analysts feel the GNP for 1967 might be as low as $740 billion, which would mean no gain at all. Relatively speaking, such a figure could be termed recessionary.

Forecasting is essentially interpreting, and there is a general understanding among economists that the bright view of statistics must be taken by some.

Look On Bright Side

Manufacturers of consumer products, for example, are not likely to knock the estimates of their own sales manager. Brokerage houses, by nature, often choose to look for the best.

Other forecasters steer an undramatic middle course, offering no great revelations but, because of their independence, sometimes hitting the mark.

On the other extreme are the congenial bears who choose darkness on the theory they might shine like a beacon. The dark side of the forecasting field is less crowded. And the odds are that, eventually, a bearish forecast might be right.

But, aside from these factors, there are complications in next year's picture.

Rebalance Balance

Too much of 1967, more so than in most years, is filled with situations that are balanced on a razor's edge and may tilt either way, taxes and Vietnam especially. Moreover, the credibility of government estimates is an uncertainty.

The Vietnam war bill for this year is actually double the budget estimate made a year ago. If estimates were so far wrong then, some forecasters say, maybe they can be wrong now also.

This is a basic hazard for forecasters. A $10-billion miscalculation was a monumental one, but its repercussions were even more awesome. If the costs of the war had been forecast accurately we might have an entirely different economy now.

Tax Decisions

For one thing, the administration might have yielded earlier this year to pressures for a tax increase. Rightly or wrongly, it resisted such pressures.

Now the administration is faced with a tax decision again, but one of a different sort. The consideration now is the raising of money rather than the dampening of demand.

The economy already has showed indications of slowing, thus lessening the argument for a tax increase. But the budget estimate might demand that money be raised through taxes.

While recognizing that heavy government expenditures will be a prop under the 1967 economy, some independent forecasters feel this might be counteracted by a general lessening of demand.

Demand Slips

The growth in consumer demand, they say, already has begun to lessen. And some projections indicate that the growth in capital expenditures might lessen progressively through 1967.

Such a slowdown of the rate at which demand increase would obviously have effects throughout the economy — adverse but at the present time unmeasurable.

Roberts Given Life For Slaying London Policemen

LONDON (AP) — Harry Roberts, 30, an ex-convict who was Britain's most wanted man, was convicted Monday along with two associates of the murder of three London policemen last Aug. 12. They were sentenced to life imprisonment.

Judge Alan Glynn-Jones recommended they should be held at least 30 years. Britain has abolished the death sentence for murder and a life sentence depends on the government's discretion.

Sentenced with Roberts were John Edward Witney, 36, and John Duddy, 37.

The shootings shocked Britain where policemen are unarmed.

Nation's Truck And Car Plants Make 10 Million

By A. F. MAHAN

DETROIT (AP) — Combined U.S. passenger car and truck production for calendar 1966 is expected to pass the 10-million mark this week.

Ward's Automotive Reports, an industry statistical agency, estimates the 10 millionth vehicle will come off assembly lines Friday, about three weeks behind the production of that vehicle in 1965.

Automotive News reports that last week's production of 199,476 units lifted this year's output of passenger cars to 8,123,438 and thus made 1966 the second highest year on record.

With the exception of 1965, this is the only year in which passenger car production has topped 8 million. Last year a total of 9,335,208 passenger cars were built. The highest previous year was 1955, when the output was 7,942,125 cars.

Automotive News said last week's production reflected the beginning of an inventory balancing cutback at four General Motors plants. The industry output of 199,476 cars compared with 204,626 the previous week and 214,519 in the corresponding 1965 week.

Passenger car sales have fallen off last year's record-setting levels, but 1966 still will wind up second best in sales, although a late-year sag forced GM cutbacks and curtailment of overtime elsewhere.

Truck output for the year to date totals 1,670,663, compared with 1,672,667 to the corresponding date a year ago.

While passenger car production as a whole is off from last year, the output of luxury vehicles is running ahead. There have been 191,289 Cadillacs built this year, compared with 184,800 last year; 48,651 Lincolns, against 41,539, and 15,907 Impalas, compared with 15,433.

Divers Probe Morrell Hulk

HARBOR BEACH (AP) — Divers prepared today to investigate the hulk of a ship believed to be that of the sunken ore carrier Daniel J. Morrell.

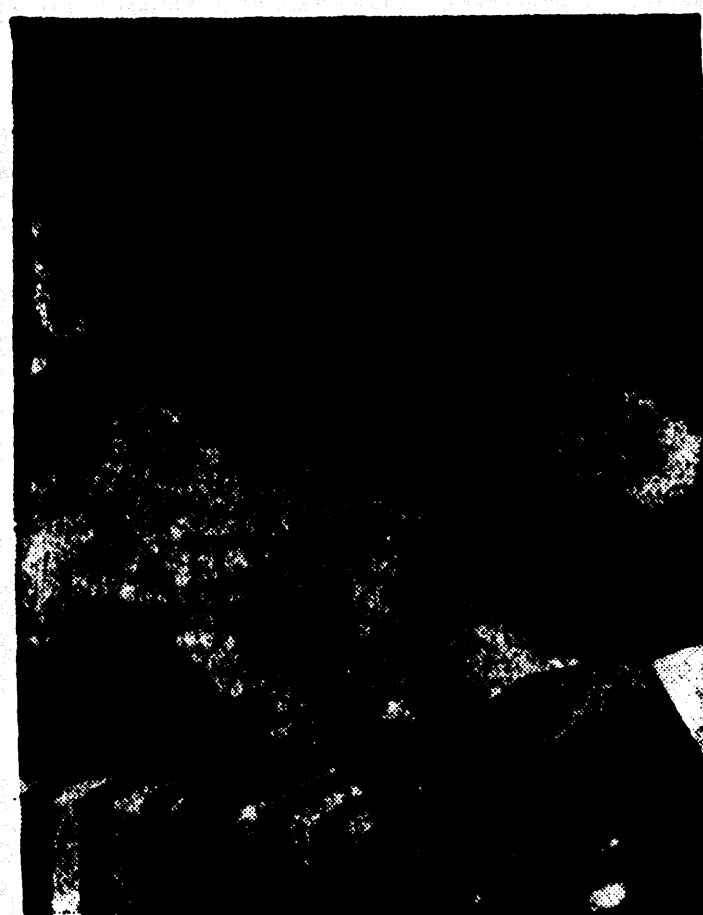

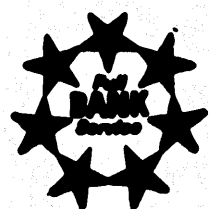

The hulk, about 26 miles off Harbor Beach, was found a few days after the Morrell sank in a Lake Huron storm Nov. 29. Dennis Hale, only survivor of the Morrell's 29-man crew, said the hulk is in the area in which the Morrell sank.

The three skin divers have been hired by Bethlehem Steel Corp., owner of the Morrell. Authorities said a salvage crew from Ontario was standing by to aid, but was not expected to set up salvage operations.

At Harbor Beach Coast Guard spokesman said the divers would probably begin operations Tuesday if weather permits.

Meanwhile, the 22nd body from the Morrell crew washed ashore Saturday at Tiverson, Ont., across Lake Huron from Harbor Beach. The body was identified as that of Saverio Grippi, 53, of Ashtabula, Ohio. Six bodies are still missing.

DELTA COUNTY OIL HEAT COUNCIL

Road Commission, Teamsters Sign

Pension Is Settled

Local 328 of the Teamsters Union and the Delta County Road Commission have signed a one year contract, July 1, 1966-1967, following negotiations extending from March 19, when the union informed the road commission that its employees were joining the union.

William Karas, Delta County highway superintendent, said that he thought that the contract was a good one for the road commission, the employees and the union.

A key issue in the negotiations carried on for the Teamsters by George J. Dunlap and for the county by the road commission and Karas, represented by Atty. John G. Erickson, was the pension provision. The issue was resolved by taking a pension other than the Teamsters pension.

The road commission took the position that its action was controlled by Act 185 of the Public Acts of 1965 affecting county road commission provisions for employee annuity plans. The act authorizes county road commissions to participate in retirement annuities for employees and in cost of life, health, accident and hospitalization insurance for employees in counties where the board of supervisors have not made such benefits generally available to county employees.

Under the act such retirement annuity benefits become available at 60 years, compared with Teamsters pension eligibility at age 57. Act 185 permits annuities up to a limit of $100 a month, or 2 per cent of the average monthly earnings of the employee, times the number of years of service of the employee, whichever is lesser.

The act also provides that the road commission may provide endowment policies or annuities in excess of the $100 limit if employees pay the total cost of the excess. Delta County Road Commission has contracted to pay the total cost of the $100 a month annuity and some of its employees will supplement this amount themselves.

Legal Reserve Fund

The law provides that the road commission must pay any annuity benefits to all employees eligible according to a uniform scale and also requires that endowment policies or annuities shall be purchased from legal reserve companies authorized to write annuities in Michigan.

The members of the Delta Road Commission are Hilding Norstrom, chairman; Elmer Klasek and Earl Paquin.

Under the annuity (pension) plan, road commission employees will get all that has been contributed to their annuity while they are employed before retirement eligibility, plus the going rate of interest. Annuity payments of $100 a month (unless augmented by employee's own contributions) start at age 65. Employees must be employed for 20 years before they can retire and be eligible for pension. The road commission has an employment rule that employees must work 180 days before they become regular employees.

Pensions Since 1963

The Delta Road Commission started its retirement annuity plan in 1963, doubled the benefits in 1963 to less than $50 a month and now raises them to a minimum of $100 a month.

Wages in the Teamster package are increased 5 cents an hour, which the road commission said it planned to give in July. The across-the-board increase is for hourly rated employees who now get from $2.08 an hour for watchmen to $2.66 an hour for machinists, welders and other highest paid employees.

The work week is 40 hours and the work year 2,088 hours, but workers average about 2,500 hours in regular and overtime work. They get no time and a half for overtime, only regular time.

83 Employees

The contract affects 83 hourly rated employees. The road commission has also 5 salaried employees, a total of 88. It had 94 employees in 1948 when Karas took over as superintendent. It now cares for more road mileage than then with not much more than half as many employees because of mechanization of operations and other techniques.

Vacation benefits are extended under the contract to four weeks after 25 years employment. They formerly were limited to 3 weeks. The schedule is one week for 5 years; 2 weeks for 5 to 15, 3 for 15 to 25.

Sick leave is unchanged at one day per month.

The road commission pays the total cost of Blue Cross (hospital) and Blue Shield (doctor) insurance for both employees and their families under the contract. Formerly the road commission paid for employees and employees paid for their families.

Geo. Chenard Of Carney Dies

George Chenard, 68, of Carney died at 4 p.m. Monday at his home.

Mr. Chenard was born Nov. 10, 1898, in Hermansville and married Dorothy Olive, May 16, 1942, at St. Bruno's Church in Nadeau. He was a member of St. Bruno's Church and had resided in Carney for 25 years. He leaves his wife, a son, Gerald, of Menominee; two step-daughters, Mrs. Wesley Miller of Danville, Ill., and Mrs. Bernard Lewis of Wilson; eight grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Jennie Poupore, of Powers; a brother, Fred Chenard, of Milwaukee.

Friends and relatives may call at the Kell-Tondin Chapel in Spalding Wednesday at 2 p.m. Funeral services will be at 10 a.m. Thursday at St. Bruno's Church with Rev. Fr. Aloysius Ehlinger officiating. Burial will be in Nadeau Township Cemetery. The rosary will be recited Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the chapel.

U.P. Power Breaks Load Record

Upper Peninsula Power Co. started its Christmas parties at The Delta Supper Club Monday evening entertaining 130 employees and their wives from its Southern Division at a dinner party. The program offered a pleasant mix of holiday and pay day, of carols and report of expanding electric power sales.

Russell Hoyer of Houghton, president of U. P. Power, said 1966 brought on a new generating unit, No. 4 at Marquette, duplicating the addition of two years ago there of 60,000 kilowatts and bringing the generation to 180,000 kw. The system had an all-time record load of 200,000 kw for an hour recently.

"We have had a 1000 per cent increase in generation in the last 10 years," said Hoyer "remarkable things are happening in the Upper Peninsula that we serve. We have more load at the Empire Mine still to come on the line and we extended our lines this year at Iron River, at Escanaba, and from Ontonagon to Keweenaw. Invest $2.3 Million

"We have a $2.3 million investment in 1966, some of which will carry over into 1967

Nancy Weldum Returns From 4-H Convention

ROCK — Nancy Weldum returned Saturday evening after attending the National Junior Horticulture Convention in St. Louis, Mo., on Dec. 4-8. She placed sixth in the demonstration contest on use of Horticulture products. The top national winner in demonstrations was from Louisiana. She demonstrated on vegetable meat pie.

The delegates totaling between 300-400 were from many different states. States varied as to number of delegates, Indiana had the most, 123, Washington and Oregon had one each. Everyone was very friendly and it was enjoyable to hear delegates from other areas speak.

The 30 delegates from Michigan traveled with the Michigan State University bus, stopping enroute to visit points of interest about Abraham Lincoln. They hit icy roads in Springfield on the way down and four inches of snow in Lansing on their return.

Touring St. Louis was very interesting, as was the convention. Funds for the delegates and the convention are donated by many companies. Next year the convention will be in New York.

Nancy said she never dreamed when she left that she would have so much fun, see so much and make so many friends. She said it is with reluctance that everyone says goodbye.

RUSSELL HOYER, Houghton, president of U. P. Power Co., left, congratulates Mrs. Eva MacDonald, chief clerk of the utility's Iron River District at its Southern Division Christmas party at the Delta Supper Club Monday night on her 15-year service award, presented by C. and make our total investment $36.5 million, or one-tenth of a million dollars per employee. We are selling 500 million kilowatts for $10.8 million gross revenue; our payroll is just under $2 million and our taxes three quarters of a million. We are building a new office building at Ontonagon and a garage and service building is going up in Republic.

"To sell our product we need appliances on the line and our sales department is doing a very good job. We have got competition (from gas) now to keep us working to stay abreast of our sales volume of the past.

"Electric utilities are never stagnant and the possibilities for 1967 include ties to Wisconsin utilities to the south. They may not result in transfer of firm energy at first, but we are working on interties with sources of energy in Wisconsin including Wisconsin Electric Power Co. of Milwaukee."

Flood of Employees

Hoyer said the iron industry's power needs grow and so do those of the copper industry north and west of Houghton "and we hear of the possibility of new mines in the Copper Country region." He said that industry and education were both contributing to utility growth with their expansions.

Parents Protest Inkster School Bussing Plans

INKSTER (AP) — Angry parents planned to continue a school boycott and to picket offices of the Inkster School Board today to protest a school bussing proposal aimed at integrating the schools.

The parents, who have formed a Citizens Consensus Committee, staged a boycott at two predominantly white elementary schools Monday which resulted in an estimated 60 per cent of the pupils being absent.

A school board official said action on the plan to bus elementary school pupils outside their neighborhoods would be taken tonight.

The plan calls for major shifts in the school population of the racially divided Detroit suburb. It was drawn up by a special school board committee to improve education and to end de facto segregation in the city.

"But I can't predict that it will do," added Arthur Meek, acting superintendent.

More people got more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

Program Enjoyed By Toastmasters

The Bay de Noc Toastmasters Club held its last meeting of the year at Marco's Monday evening. Toastmaster for the program was Bernard Hoefgen. Invocation was given by George McLaughlin and table topics by Fred Fisher.

Speakers were Tom McDermott, Rev. Charles Beckingham, and Don Seymour. Master evaluator was Reinold Chase assisted by a panel composed of John Lamsie, Father Hattrup, John Snow, William L. Miller, Walter Peterson and Jim Wren. Sherman Radtke was the timer.

Others participating in the program were Dick Powell, a new member of the club and Club President Arthur Brien.

Shane O'Neill In Critical Condition

NEW YORK (AP) — Shane O'Neill, 48, son of the late playwright Eugene O'Neill, was reported in critical condition today after jumping from a second-floor window of a Manhattan station house.

O'Neill had been brought to the police station after his arrest late Sunday night on the lower East Side for possession of drugs and marijuana.

Battle Creek Fire Kills Trio

BATTLE CREEK (AP) —

Three young brothers were asphyxiated by super-heated air as they tried to escape a fire that swept through their two-story home in Battle Creek late Monday night.

The three sons of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Grant were found dead in the rear of the first floor of the home. Dead were: Cary, 5; Tracy, 8, and Ricky, 2.

Battle Creek Fire Chief Don Burrows said the three boys had not been burned. He theorized they were trying to escape the fire, which he said started in the living room and spread to the basement and second floor of the house.

The children were removed by two policemen who entered the house with fire fighters. One fireman suffered minor injuries when he fell down a flight of stairs.

Chief Burrows said it was the worst death toll he had seen in a fire in Battle Creek in his 37 years with the department.

Police said the children's mother, Doralyn Grant, 27, pregnant with her fourth child, was visiting neighbors nearby when the fire broke out. Her husband was at his job at the Custer Job Corps Center near Battle Creek.

Burrows said the cause of the blaze has not been determined.

Yule Brings Out Best And Worst

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Christmas brings out the best and the worst in the occupants of the office zoo.

In almost every American business office between now and the first of the year, some or all of these things are bound to occur:

Some wag will try to figure a way to put a fifth of gin in the water cooler.

The secretaries in each department will compete to see which can put up the prettiest small Christmas tree by her desk.

Some cheapie will steal the string of lights off at least one tree to decorate his own tree at home.

If someone takes up a collection for the janitor, half the staff will say, "Why him—why not one for the office boy?"

If someone takes up a collection for the office boy, half the staff will say, "Why him—why not one for the janitor?"

How About Me?

If someone takes up a collection for both the office boy and the janitor, three out of four members of the staff will whine, "When are you going to take up a collection for me?"

The senior executives will give their secretaries gift certificates averaging $25, and get their annual reward—a dutiful peck on the cheek.

The junior executives will pass out stale boxes of cheap chocolates—and charming smiles. They'll get back from the girls grumpy looks of feigned gratitude.

Everybody will come to work later and later, and output will fall about 50 per cent.

The coffee breaks and lunch periods will get longer and longer, as the employees try to do as much shopping as possible on company time.

From Dec. 15 on, only one out of three calls going through the office switchboard will have anything to do with the firm's business.

That Mistake

The homeliest girl in the place will sneak in a big sprig of mistletoe and furtively drop it on the desk of some bold fellow she's sure will hang it up.

Someone will be fired; someone will be hired.

One of the stenographers will come reeling in from an all-hen luncheon so loaded with deliquishe she'll have to spend the rest of the afternoon recuperating in the ladies' washroom.

The office toper will be picked most of the week before Christmas, buttonholing passers-by in the locker room and weeping tears of 86 proof bourbon as he shows them pictures of his mother and exclaims, "She's the grandest girl that ever lived!"

Wives Collect

At least 12 grim-faced wives will show up to collect their husband's check on payday so he won't be tempted to cash it himself on the way home.

If you say, "Have a Merry Christmas" to the office grouch, he'll snarl back, "Why should I—do I have to?"

In the general spirit of holiday cheer, half a dozen old office feuds will be healed—and half a dozen new feuds begun.

If the firm doesn't give a Christmas bonus, a third of the employees assure each other that come Jan. 1, they're going to look around for an organization that recognizes honest merit.

If the firm does give a Christmas bonus, two-thirds of the employees complain, "Santa Claus sure had arthritis of the hand this year, didn't he?"

Gifts For Indians:

Used Appliances Asked By Lions

The Daggett Lions Club announces a Christmas drive to benefit the Hannahville Indian Reservation at Harris.

The hope is that Indian residents at Hannahville would be able to receive enough electrical appliances so that they could take advantage of the impending installation.

The Hannahville reservation is about 50 years old but it was without electricity. It is now expected that the homes will be wired and hooked up for power in time for Christmas.

Keith Sorenson, president of the Daggett Lions Club, reports that a committee has been formed to encourage gifts of used electrical appliances and equipment in good working order.

Needed are electric irons, toasters, mixers, TVs, refrigerators, clocks, extension cords, light bulbs, lamps, radios and any other useful household electrical appliances.

Articles may be dropped off at Voelker's Garage between now and Saturday noon, Dec. 17; at the Daggett Bus Garage from 12 noon until 5 p.m., Saturday, Dec. 17. Call the following numbers for pick-up service:

Menominee and Marinette residents call Robert Matlgren 863-2949; Mid-County residents call Keith Sorenson PL 3-6319 or Steve Subosky 753-4108; North Menominee and Delta County residents call Erickson Grocery in Harris 466-7448.

Problems Of Area, Region Concern City's Officials

Mutual problems confronting units of governments of this area and the Upper Peninsula region are the subject of meetings and discussions inaugurated by City of Escanaba administration.

At the area level is the need for cooperative solution to problems of garbage disposal from the city and the adjacent townships; and the extension of fire fighting service to the area.

Escanaba City Manager George Harvey reports to the City Council in his news letter that he met recently with Supervisors Charles Sedenquist of Wets Township, Edwin Bergman of Bark River and Phil Miron of Ford River relative to the sanitary landfill for disposal of garbage and refuse.

State law now requires that such refuse be disposed of by covering it with earth, rather than leaving it in open dumps.

Fire Protection
The city manager said that for one month there will be a survey to determine who uses the city landfill dump "after which we will come up with a proposal for participation of the Townships in the financial cost."

At the same meeting, the city manager said, with Escanaba Fire Chief Palmer Deroult in attendance, "we discussed the fire contracts that we have with the Townships in the hope of getting more assistance financially to help us operate the department."

"One of the reasons that this was brought up at this time is that we are faced with replacement of our fire fighting equipment, and inasmuch as one of these trucks is utilized primarily for Townships, we are hopeful that we can get some financial assistance from them," Harvey reported. "The supervisors were very receptive and we will develop an agreement to present to them."

For Mutual Aid
At the regional level, the City of Escanaba through its electric department superintendent, William Van Effen, is seeking to assure better electrical service through a cooperative arrangement with the Michigan Utilities Association.

Van Effen, U. P. director of the Municipal Utilities Association, arranged for the meeting of representatives of all of the municipally-owned electric utilities in the U. P. The meeting was held in Norway.

"One of the main topics of discussion was the possible organization of a mutual aid program in which the cooperating utilities could respond to a call from any member," City Manager Harvey reported.

"The mutual aid program has worked very effectively in other parts of the state where transmission or distribution lines of a member utility have been damaged by storm. Neighboring utilities have sent men and equipment to help restore service."

Recreation Planning
Present at the meeting were representatives of the utilities of Baraga, Dagest, Marquette, Gladstone, Crystal Falls, Stephenson, Bessemer, L'Anse, Neegaunee, Newberry, Norway and Wakefield.

An area program—at least from the standpoint of some participation—is that of recreation. Escanaba is now proposing to construct a new recreation building with $300,000 in funds bequeathed to the city by Mrs. Catherine Bonifas.

The city Recreation Board has discussed the project and is meeting with architects, one of whom will be recommended to the Council to be retained to draw plans and designs.

Informal discussions have been held between the City Council and the Escanaba Area Public Schools board of education, the city manager reports that these talks will "be helpful to Recreation Director Paul Vardigan and the Recreation Board in reaching decisions that will result in the eventual recommendation from them to the Council on the design of the proposed facility."

The Recreation Board is expected to reach a determination on the needs of the new building by Dec. 15. The Council will be faced with decisions on architects at meetings to be held Jan. 5 and Jan. 19.

Rock

Christmas Programs
The annual Christmas program of the Rock Bible Chapel will be held on Sunday, Dec. 18 at 7:30 p. m. at the Chapel.

The theme of the program is, "The Three Gifts of Christmas." Candy will be distributed to the Sunday school pupils and refreshments will be served after the program. A rehearsal will be held at the Chapel on Friday, Dec. 16 at 3 p. m.

The annual Rock School Christmas program will be held on Tuesday evening, Dec. 20.

The Family Night and Christmas program at the Rock Faith Lutheran church will be held on Sunday, Dec. 18 at 7:30 p. m. Lunch will be served afterward.

Mrs. Omo Aalto was admitted to St. Luke's Hospital in Marquette last week as a medical patient. She is expected home this week.

Mrs. Ona Hunt, 97, moved from Wayne to the Pinehaven Nursing Home at Gladstone recently.

Former Cabby Grilled On Cincy Stranglings

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The investigation of six strangulation slayings picked up momentum today as police probed further into the fatal stabbing of another woman.

Police held Postel Laskey, 28, a laborer and a former cabdriver, but have not charged him with any of the murders. He has denied knowing anything about them.

Laskey was charged with several minor offenses and was being questioned about the series of slayings.

Police, giving no further comment, called a news conference today. The murders are the stabbing of Barbara Bowman, 31, and the strangling of six elderly women. The stranglings started Dec. 2, 1965, and have made Cincinnati a city of fear.

All the strangling victims were more than 50 years old. Five had been raped.

Laskey was arrested Friday shortly after Lula Kerrick, 81, was found strangled in the elevator of her apartment house two blocks from police headquarters.

The arrest was not directly concerned with the slaying. Police picked up Laskey on the complaint of a woman who lived near Miss Kerrick and said a man had chased her into her home. A neighbor noted the license number of the man's car.

Late Monday, police obtained a search warrant and took three bags full of undisclosed items from the homes of Laskey's mother and from an apartment he rented four weeks ago.

Miss Bowman, a secretary, was found dying early Aug. 14 near a wrecked taxicab that turned out to have been stolen.

U-M Administration Sit-In Ban Slapped

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The College of Literature, Science and Arts faculty politely slapped the hand of the University of Michigan administration Monday night for the university's ban on student sit-ins and its cooperation with the House Un-American Activities Committee last summer.

A resolution charging the administration with "less responsibility and less fidelity to the Democratic process than the university community had every right to expect" was forwarded to U-M President Harlan Hatcher and the Board of Regents.

Last summer, the university under subpoena, turned over to HUAC a list of 65 students in three left wing campus organizations. In September, the university banned sit-ins which the Student Government Council broke off relations with the university because the ban was not rescinded.

The faculty resolution was "a mild way of saying we don't like what you did on HUAC and the sit-in ban," said William Haber, dean of the college.

The formal resolution regretted "the breakdown in communication and confidence which has occurred in recent months since HUAC subpoenaed the membership lists of three student organizations."

The college is the largest in the university complex with 11,000 students and 900 faculty members, Haber said.

He said the turnout of 720 professors at Monday's meeting was the largest for any meeting in memory. Normally, 200 professors show up for the monthly sessions, he said.

"I don't recall such an outpouring of faculty interest in my 30 years at the university," said Haber.

The faculty resolution also took note of student protests, urging an end to student efforts to disrupt activities of the university.

Although "we sympathize with the aspirations of the students," the resolution said, such disruptive tactics "are not likely to command general faculty support."

Objectors Given Probation Terms

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Four conscientious objectors were placed on five years' probation Monday in U.S. District Court and ordered to report for hospital work for two years each.

The four were indicted by a federal grand jury Oct. 27 and all pleaded guilty before Judge Noel P. Fox.

Richard Modigell of Bangor and William L. Adams of Niles, both 22, were accused of failing to report to Butterworth Hospital here on the instructions of their draft boards.

Paul A. Smith of Paw Paw and Richard Foreman of Delton, both 20, were charged with failure to report to their draft boards for instructions to report for hospital work.

Houghton Man On Navy Strike At North Viet

SAIGON (AP) — Bombs exploding at a North Vietnamese missile assembly area "looked like flashbulbs in the night," U.S. Navy Pilot Lt. Byron Hodge of Virginia Beach, Va., reported today.

He was the pilot of one of two A6 intruders that slammed the missile site about five miles southwest of Haiphong Sunday, Lt. (J.G.) Dick McKee, also of Virginia Beach, a bombardier-navigator, said he "had the cross hairs right on target" as the jets from the U.S. aircraft carrier Kitty Hawk made their run. Neither aircraft was damaged although they received heavy ground fire, the second bombardier-navigator, Lt. Ted Beas of Houghton, Mich., said.

Before you settle for less hot water, ask yourself this.

Which heats water faster—oil or gas?

Oil heaters do. 3 times faster. Our 30 gallon AMOCO® Sta-Warm Water Heater has 3 times the capacity of gas-fired heaters. And costs less to operate. You can run your faucet for 25 years, and never run out of hot water.† Heats water as fast as it will flow.†† Call new Standard Oil Hot Line—the modern service that has revolutionized oil heating. Ask about low-cost modernizing with oil. A call can save you hundreds of dollars. Now more than ever—You expect more from Standard and you get it!*

Don't buy the "gas line" until you call Hot Line.

White House Decks Out For Christmas

WASHINGTON (AP)—Christmas at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue: the whiff of cedar, glow of tiny white bulbs, reflections of popcorn garlands in a mirror, a chandelier laced with holly, banquet tables crested with pine.

It's the White House ready for Christmas entertaining. Reporters were given a special preview Monday. Decorations center around a fat 20-foot high balsam fir which towers to the ceiling of the Blue Room. Gingerbread cookies—some plastic, some real—candied fruit, toy soldiers and straw snowflakes hang from its boughs.

On every mantle, there is pine and holly, and gold, silver or blue or red bulbs. Doors sprout chains of cedar. Red and white roses and carnations fill spare tabletops.

Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson added at least three new touches to the traditional White House decorations: a 13-foot-high, gold-colored paper mache creche in the East Room, a mirror decorated with felt symbols of the 12-days of Christmas and a wreath made of flowers from 50 states.

This is the first floor of the executive mansion.

Upstairs, in the first family's living quarters, there are also decorations. The Johnsons plan to have a scotch pine decorated with popcorn and cranberry strings.

Garden Peninsula

Mrs. Lloyd Ranguette and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Ranguette are visiting in Pontiac and Oscoda.

Mrs. Anna Casey is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Adson Casey and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Casey in Manistique.

William McDermott is a patient in the V. A. hospital in Iron Mountain.

OPEN SEASON FOR CRANBERRY COBBLER

Grandmother had a culinary trick up her sleeve worth noting! When she didn't have the time to make a pie, she mixed up a quick fruit cobbler and slipped it into the oven. For an extra-special treat, try this easy-to-make spicy cranberry-apple combination topped with drop biscuits. It's baked in a casserole, and bright with fresh ruby-red cranberries, just now at their seasonal best.

CRANBERRY APPLE COBBLER (Makes 8 servings)

6 apples, peeled, cored and cut into slices
2 cups Ocean Spray fresh cranberries, rinsed and drained
1 1/2 cups sugar
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup water
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 egg, well beaten
1/2 cup milk

Combine apples, cranberries, sugar, spices, water and butter in a saucepan; cook over medium heat until mixture bubbles. Lower heat and simmer 10 to 15 minutes or until apples are tender but still firm. Pour mixture into shallow 8-quart casserole. Mix flour, baking powder and salt; add egg and milk and stir only until all dry particles are moistened. Drop dough by spoonfuls on top of cranberry mixture. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 30 to 35 minutes or until drop biscuits are golden brown. Place a biscuit into a serving dish and spoon some of the sauce over it. Serve with heavy cream.

Immanuel ILCW Lists Meetings

The I.L.C.W. units of the Immanuel Lutheran Church will meet Thursday, Dec. 15 as follows:

9:15 a. m., India, at church, Helen Breitman, hostess.
10 a. m., Columbia, pot-luck at Helen Londo's, 1512 11th Ave. S.
12:30 p. m., Nigeria and Brazil, pot-luck at church.
7:30 p. m., Hong Kong at 810 S. 13th, Lillian Ellingsen, hostess.
7:30, Zululand, at Rte. 1, Gladstone, Marjorie Johnson, hostess.
7:30, New Guinea, at church.
7:30, Japan, at church.

Hermansville

The First Methodist Church, Hermansville, Christmas Eve services will be at 9:30 p. m. Sunday, Dec. 18. The family services will be at 10 a. m., no Church School on Sunday, Christmas Day.

The Holy Name Society of St. Mary's Church, Hermansville, will meet in the Parish Hall, Wednesday, Dec. 14 at 7:30 p. m.

The annual Christmas program for the children of Meyer Township will be Wednesday, Dec. 14 at 7 p. m. in the Club House. Santa Claus will distribute candy to the children. The program is under the auspices of the Leo Floriano American Legion Post No. 340 and the Hermansville public schools.

GLADSTONE

City Approves Housing Project, Seeks $15,000

The City Commission adopted resolutions Monday to approve and cooperate in the Federal Housing Commission project for low cost housing for senior citizens at their regular meeting at the City Hall.

Application for a $15,000 federal grant for preliminary planning for the project was approved.

Allan Briggs, acting city attorney, reminded the commission of the strict building code which accompanies federal projects and its effect on existing housing. Briggs said rigid standards are imposed as the goal of such projects is to raise standard of housing in the area.

In many instances inadequate housing has been demolished since low cost housing is provided in new federally-financed units Briggs said.

The Gladstone Housing Commission, composed of Alcott Erickson, president; Arne Anderson, vice president; Michael LaPine, secretary; John Tackman and John Zimmerman, have already approved the resolutions for federal funds.

Streets Named

Commissioner George Young recommended a meeting with the governing body in Ontonagon to examine the effects of the building code there. City Manager H. J. Henriksen and commissioner Gene Kee recently met with a former commissioner from Sault Ste. Marie, where federal units have been successfully meeting needs of elderly citizens and low income families.

The Commission voted to name the two remaining streets in the Industrial Park N. 7th and N. 8th Streets. A letter was received by the commission suggesting names of several well-known residents who have contributed substantially to the growth of Gladstone, but since a choice would be difficult it was decided to continue N. 7th and 8th Streets into the park.

Debaters Learn Experience Helps In First Meet

Eleven of 15 Gladstone high school varsity and junior varsity debaters have discovered that there is no substitute for experience.

The 11 students are all new to the debate program this year. The complete varsity team of last year graduated and the inexperience showed up in the first round of tournament debates Saturday at Marquette.

Varsity affirmative of Dorrell Butch and Martha Borden lost to Escanaba and Holy Name and varsity negative of Blake Cowen and John Burk were beaten by Negaunee and Newberry teams.

At the junior varsity level, affirmative team Dianne Ottenman and Mary Uerling defeated Ewen and lost to Negaunee, Newberry and Manistique; negative team Bill Marmalik and John Watson defeated Ironwood and lost to Negaunee and Iron Mountain; affirmative team Celeste Thompson and Mary Jo Beck defeated Marquette Bishop Baraga and lost to Iron Mountain and Negaunee; negative team Bruce Nichols and Laurie Kauffman defeated Ewen and lost to Newberry and Negaunee and negative team of Jim Reese and Kristen Olson lost to Marquette, Menominee and Manistique.

Barbara Marshall, junior varsity affirmative debater, missed the competition because of illness. Second round of debates is scheduled Jan. 14 at Negaunee.

Bill (Sarge) Sarnowski, former Escanaba High School athlete, earned a varsity football letter at Central Michigan University this year. Sarnowski was a standout griddy and shot putter in his prep days at Esby.

Fairbanks, Alaska, has been awarded the 1967 Babe Ruth baseball world series, national officials announced recently. In Escanaba, league secretary Fred Gravelle plans to call a meeting of managers late in January and asks that all graduated players return their suits as soon as possible so repairs and replacements may be made. Escanaba fielded one of its best Babe Ruth All Star teams in the history of the program last year and many of the outstanding players will be back again next summer.

Bob Plesko, freshman from Frankenmuth, scored 22 points and pulled down 15 rebounds to lead Michigan Tech to its record breaking 123-75 victory over Northland College last week. The former single game scoring record was 119, established against the same opponent last season.

Rudyard's drop in enrollment from Class B to Class C has resulted in a significant change in the field for the district Class B basketball tournament that will be staged at Holy Name in March. Instead of Munising, Menominee, Poly Name and Gladstone as it was last year, it will be Marquette, Newberry, Holy Name and Gladstone this season. Menominee will join Kingsford and Iron Mountain at the Dickinson Armory while Gwinn, Ishpeming, Munising and Negaunee play at Negaunee. That leaves Calumet, Iron River and Ironwood at Ironwood.

Tom Domres, former star Gladstone athlete, made the All-Big Ten honorable mention list in the UPI selections announced recently. Domres is rated Wisconsin's best defensive lineman and has one more year of eligibility at the Madison school. He stands 6-2 and weighs 230.

Dave Bush, freshman from Stephenson, is a member of the varsity basketball squad at Ferris State College in Big Rapids. The 5 foot 9 inch guard was one of the Upper Peninsula's finest prep cagers during his Stephenson career under coach Gus Lord. He made the All-U. P. Class B second team as a sophomore in 1964 when he scored 361 points, landed a Class C first team berth in 1965 when he tallied 261 points and made the Class C second team last year when he totaled in 276 points.

The L'Anse Hornets, defending state Class C cage champs, bombed Lake Linden by a 116-55 margin in their last start, but it could have been a lot worse. Coach Bill Popp's cagers smashed the Whiz Kids, 36-8, in the first quarter and had a 63-29 bulge at halftime. Gerry Gerard and Bob Fredrickson scored 22 points apiece to lead the assault.

Iron Mountain, competing in both the Great Northern and Menominee Range conferences, cemented its lead atop the Range standings with a 77-47 decision over Iron River. Don Copper paced Coach Irv Demer's cagers to their second Range victory and third win in four starts overall with 20 points.

Coach Bruce Warren's Trout Creek Anglers, runnerup in the state Class D tournament last season, registered victory No. 2 this year when they belted White Pine, 86-61, behind Don Benson's 28 point effort. The defeat was the first of the season for White Pine.

Jon Cameron of Marquette and Dave Verlanen of Chassell were two of six Upper Peninsula basketball players to reach double scoring figures in a 133-53 victory over Ashland (Wis.) Teachers College. The victory was the 16th in 12 starts for the Lions who will be idle until after the Christmas holidays.

Jim Uecke, Menominee's classy basketball star last season, is a member of the Carthage College freshman cage team this season. The Carthage frosh are rated the best at the school in the past seven years. Uecke earned All-U. P. and all-state cage honors at Menominee.

Bruins Retain Leading Spot In Cage Ratings; No Threat This Week

By The Associated Press
There is no threat this week to UCLA's standing as the No. 1 team in The Associated Press' major-college basketball poll because the powerful Bruins are not scheduled. Second-ranked Texas Western and fourth-ranked Kentucky, though, seem to have difficult tasks ahead.

Texas Western meets fifth-ranked New Mexico Friday while Kentucky faces sixth-ranked North Carolina Tuesday.

UCLA was a unanimous choice in the latest poll based on games through last Saturday. The Bruins were placed in the top position by all 36 selectors on the national panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

The Bruins, 3-0, defeated Duke twice last week, 84-54 Friday and 107-87 Saturday. The No. 1 team does not play again until Dec. 22 when it takes on Colorado State.

Texas Western, 3-0, held second place after defeating East

Texas, Pan American and Southern Methodist.

Louisville switched places with Kentucky, the Cardinals moving to third and the Wildcats slipping to fourth. Louisville beat Southwestern Louisiana and Southern Illinois while Kentucky lost to Illinois in overtime and came back to down Northwestern.

New Mexico, winner over Loyola of Los Angeles and Texas Tech, advanced one place to fifth.

North Carolina, Brigham Young, Michigan State, Houston and Cincinnati complete the first ten in that order.

Michigan State, 4-0 including victories last week over South Dakota and Wichita State, is the only new team in the rankings. The Spartans replaced Duke, which has lost three of four games.

Houston, only member of the Top Ten to play Monday night, shrugged off four technical fouls and buried visiting St. Mary's, Calif., 90-74 for its fifth victory in six starts.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, and points on a 10-0 scale basis:

1. UCLA (38) 360
2. Texas Western 316
3. Louisville 307
4. Kentucky 149
5. New Mexico 137
6. North Carolina 134
7. Brigham Young 128
8. Michigan St. 105
9. Houston 87
10. Cincinnati 87

New York Teams Play Key Games In Pro Football

By The Associated Press
New York's pro football buffs, who counted themselves out of the American and National league title races weeks ago, can count themselves back in this weekend.

Although the Jets are going nowhere and the Giants have been there for sometime, each club may hold the key to its league's Eastern Division championship maze.

The Jets, whose hopes for an unprecedented winning season evaporated at San Diego last Sunday, take on the Boston Patriots, pace-setters in the AFL's Eastern race, at Shea Stadium Saturday. The Pats need either a victory or tie to lock up the division crown.

The Giants, most scored-upon club in NFL history, wind up their losing season ever Sunday when they entertain the explosive Dallas Cowboys at Yankee Stadium. The Cowboys can wrap up the Eastern Conference title before they take the field if Cleveland beats second-place St. Louis Saturday.

But a Cardinal victory would give the fallen Giants a shot at sidetracking Dallas' title express. The Cowboys then would have to either beat or tie New York to clinch their first division championship since they entered the NFL six years ago.

The Cowboys, with the highest scoring offense in the league, rate three-touchdown favorites over New York, which has yielded a record 484 points in sliding to a 1-11-1 season mark. The Jets, 3-6-2, are six-point underdogs against the Patriots, 9-3-2, who have dropped only one of their last 10 starts.

The Patriots, who lead Buffalo's defending AFL champs by one-half game in the Eastern stretch race, expect Gino Cappelletti, the league's scoring leader, to be ready for full-time duty. Cappelletti nursed a bruised thigh through last Sunday's 38-14 victory at Houston.

Dallas, the NFL's Eastern crown within its grasp last Sunday, bowed to Washington 34-31. Quarterback Don Meredith, injured in the second period against the Redskins, should be ready to call signals against the Giants, who were drubbed by Pittsburgh 47-28 last Sunday.

Elsewhere Sunday, Green Bay's Western Division kings visit Los Angeles, Baltimore is at San Francisco, Minnesota at Chicago, Philadelphia at Washington and Pittsburgh at Atlanta in NFL play; Denver at Buffalo, Houston at Miami and Kansas City, the Western Division champion, at San Diego in the AFL.

HARRY GILMER, Detroit Lions head coach, is pelted with snowballs by fans at Tiger Stadium in Detroit after the season finale which his team lost to the Minnesota Vikings (28-16) last Sunday. (AP Wirephoto)

Has Harry Gilmer Coached Last Grid Game For Detroit Lions?

DETROIT (AP) — Has Harry Gilmer coached his last Detroit Lions game?

Asked if he expected to return next year, Gilmer grinned and said, "Nobody's told me otherwise."

He's got another year to go on a three-year contract with the Lions.

But the owner William Clay Ford has said he'll take a look at the whole coaching situation and announce his decision early next year.

"I'm going to take my time and consider and weigh all the factors," he said.

Detroit is in the cellar of the National Football League's Western Division with a 4-9-1 record.

There have been many changes since Gilmer took over the Lions. He has been under fire from players and from the fans.

After Sunday's 28-16 loss to Minnesota, Gilmer was the target of snowballs and again the fans were singing, "Bye, bye, Harry."

End Gail Cogdill earlier publicly blasted Gilmer. So did end Sam Williams when Miami

Ishpeming Man In Fame Hall

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — The late Conrad Thompson of Ishpeming, Mich., was one of eight members of the U. S. Ski Hall of Fame honored with plaques which will be awarded at divisional functions of the U. S. Ski Association.

Thompson was the only member posthumously in the announcement made by the U. S. Ski Educational Foundation Monday.

He was winner of the national ski jumping contest of 1904 at Ishpeming.

drafted him in the expansion. So did fullback Nick Pietrosante when the Lions cut him this year.

But Tom Nowatzke has emerged as a competent fullback. Ends Bill Malinchak and John Henderson show promise, so do guards Bob Kowalkowski and Doug Van Horn, placekicker Garo Yepremian, defensive back Tommy Vaughn and center Ed Flanagan.

Quarterback Karl Sweetan took over magnificently after Milt Plum was hurt. Pat Stud-still emerged as the best pass receiver in the National Football League. Linebacker Mike Lucci played standout football. Ron Kramer had one of his best years at tight end.

But despite players that personnel director Russ Thomas says "compare favorably" with other clubs, the Lions were losers.

Detroit outbid Denver for the services of Notre Dame All-America halfback Nick Eddy in hopes of improving the running game.

That leaves the Lions with lots of good trading material, including Cogdill, who has asked to be traded. Plum could well go on the block, and would command a high price in player talent. Plum has said he expects to be traded.

Next year's club is certain to be greatly changed. Ford after the last loss, "You can't stand pat with a losing team." But, he said, "We have some talent on this team. There are a lot of things involved that can't be measured in a won-lost record. It is not merely a lack of personnel. It's a combination of things, the personnel and the handling of it."

At about midseason, Gilmer said he had made a turn toward youth and rebuilding before league play opened. Whether he will get to work on the job another year is up to Ford.

Golf Champs Don't Agree

NEW YORK (AP) — Like the fictional Jack Sprat and his contrary spouse, the country's two pro golf champions have different tastes about the tour.

U.S. Open king Bill Casper wants more fat. Al Geiberger, the PGA titleholder, wants more lean.

"I could play 15 months of the year if there were that many," said Casper, the Mormon who the buffalo meat diet who beat Arnie Palmer in a playoff for the Open at San Francisco.

Geiberger, the beanpole who nibbles on peanut butter sandwiches for nourishment around the course, said he thinks the tour is too long. He'd like two months, or more, of enforced rest.

"We started in January and we have just finished our last major tournament — the PGA team matches in Florida," he said. "That means in about three more weeks we'll be hitting the road again."

Palmer, who teamed with

Jack Nicklaus to win the $50,000 first prize last weekend at Palm Beach Gardens, Fla., has argued for years for a streamlined tournament schedule of about 25 events. Now the $4-million program runs to around 40.

Nobody is making the golfers play in all the tournaments, or most of them, but it's necessary to keep pace in money winnings and Ryder Cup points, two important measures of success.

All the golfers are happy that prize money is continuing to escalate, with $200,000-plus tournaments moving the $100,000 classics into second class category.

"I don't know when the bonanza will end," Casper said. "As long as people want to see the golfers and promoters put up the money, the men will take their cuts."

Casper, Geiberger and Palmer were among the eight leading pros honored at a banquet here Monday night as Golf magazine's 1966 All-America team.

Wisconsin Loses Final Appeal Against Braves

WASHINGTON (AP) — Organized baseball apparently has the freedom to move its teams from city to city without fear of violating antitrust laws.

The Supreme Court declined Monday to review a Wisconsin Supreme Court ruling that organized baseball is immune to the state's antitrust law.

The state of Wisconsin fought to retain the National League Braves, who moved from Milwaukee to Atlanta last season.

Baseball has been immune from antitrust prosecution under federal laws for 44 years. The high court's action Monday assures it the same immunity from state antitrust laws.

By refusing to consider the Wisconsin case, the court left baseball free either to limit or expand the number of teams and to choose the cities that will have them.

The Braves' initial move — from Boston to Milwaukee in 1953 — touched off a wave of franchise shifting and expansion which has not stopped. The St. Louis Browns moved to Baltimore, the New York Giants to San Francisco, the Brooklyn Dodgers to Los Angeles, the Philadelphia Athletics to Kansas City and the Washington

Senators to Minnesota.

New franchises were granted in the American League to Los Angeles and Washington, and in the National League to Houston and New York. The Los Angeles Angels have since moved to Anaheim, Calif.

In Madison, Wis., however, state Atty. Gen. Bronson C. La Follette said the state is considering asking the Supreme Court for a rehearing.

And in Milwaukee, Rep. Clement J. Zablocki, D-Wis., said he would reintroduce legislation to strip organized baseball of its federal antitrust exemption. His similar bill died in committee in the 89th Congress.

The high court has heard cases for the second time only on rare occasions.

In saying Wisconsin might ask the Supreme Court for a second chance, La Follette noted that the state's plea had fallen only one vote short of the necessary backing to win a review of the case.

At least four of the nine justices must agree to bring a case before the Supreme Court for argument.

Justices Hugo Black, William O. Douglas and William J. Brennan Jr. said they would have heard the case, Justice Abe Fortas noted he took no part in the consideration or decision.

Wisconsin had asked the high court to review and reverse the 4-3 decision of the State's Supreme Court which ruled July 27 that organized baseball was immune from Wisconsin's antitrust law.

Prep Cage Tourney Slate Is Announced

POWERS-SPALDING — Pairings for opening round games in the annual Big Seven Holiday basketball tournament which will be staged here next week, were announced today by Leno Pieropon of Carney High School, tourney manager.

Carney will serve as the host school for the annual holiday classic that will run through three nights—Dec. 19, 20 and 21, at the Powers gymnasium.

Eight teams will compete in the tournament, six from the Big Seven Conference and two outsiders. The Channing Railroaders, coached by Don Benzle, are defending champions.

Making up the field will be Hermansville, Powers, Carney, Alpha, Felch and Channing of the Big Seven and Republic and Champion of the Mid-Peninsula conference.

The host Tigers, coached by Tom LeQuia, will carry a 3-2 overall record into the tournament. The three victories have come in Big Seven competition and puts the team in the top spot in the conference standings. The setbacks were suffered to Rapid River and Bark River, members of the Central League.

Coach Don Hill's Hermansville Redskins had registered three straight victories, including one over Channing, before suffering their first setback to Champion last week.

Hermansville and Powers meet in a tournament preview tonight at the Powers court. The Redskins are 2-0 in the Big Seven, so the winner will take over sole possession of first place.

In addition to Pieropon, other tournament officials are Steve Machalk of Hermansville, scorer, and Raymond Richel of Carney, timer.

Officials who have been assigned to work the tournament games are Axel Anderson of Stephenson, Harold Anderson of Gladstone, Gildo Canale of Marquette, David Hallgren and John Knispel of Escanaba, Jerry Pangrazi of Marquette, Tom Paternoster of Kingsford, Ed Skibo of Crystal Falls and Joe Steiner of Iron Mountain.

The tournament is set up so that all eight teams will play three games, each seeing action every night. Following Monday night's openers, winners will meet winners and losers will face losers Tuesday night. Wednesday's pairings will depend on the outcome of Tuesday night's games. The final result will be a champion, runnerup, third and fourth place winners.

The pairings for the first round games Dec. 19: (All games EST)

5—Republic vs. Felch
6:30—Carney vs. Alpha
8—Channing vs. Champion
9:30—Hermansville vs. Powers

OLDTIMERS TO PLAY

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings Old-Timers and the Montreal Canadiens Old-Timers will play at Olympia here Feb. 3, then again at Montreal Feb. 17. Such former stars as Bill Gadsby, Sid Abel, Ted Lindsay, Harry Lumley and Eddie Bush will play for the Wings.

Wolverines Tip Butler; Strack Uses 13 Players

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Michigan basketball coach Dave Strack says "the blue chips are on the table pretty soon" and he's taking a long, hard look at his talent, before the Big Ten season opens.

Michigan trampled Butler 91-80 Monday night and Strack played 13 men.

"I felt that win or lose I ought to give them some playing time," he said. "You

Refs Rapped By Alcindor Cage Coach

LOS ANGELES (AP)—UCLA basketball Coach John Wooden says his skyscraper center, Lew Alcindor, got rough treatment in the Bruins' first three games.

"He is not getting the protection he should get and the protection normal players get," Wooden told sportswriters Monday. "There have been some atrocious things... On out-of-bounds plays, men stand next to him with their hands all over him."

Sophomore Alcindor, 7-1 1/2, scored 113 points in the games against Southern California and Duke.

Wooden indicated that referees are inclined to look at Alcindor so it's out of the opposition's reach, instead of at contact being made with the young giant.

"They hold him down a little by body contact," said Wooden. "I have a film of the games and, if I put together some of the things I've seen, I could run a pretty good strip of it."

The Bruins don't play until Dec. 22 when they host Colorado State.

Packers Shrug Off Injuries

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Green Bay Packers coaches expect team injuries to have little effect on their Sunday game with the Los Angeles Rams, a spokesman says.

Quarterback Bart Starr suffered a rib injury last week against the Baltimore Colts and sat out the second half, but will play against the Rams if he recovers sufficiently. Zeke Bratkowski will be at the helm otherwise.

At guard, Fuzzy Thurston is ready to play again, but the spokesman said Monday he may not start. Replacement Gale Gillingham played the full game against the Colts and will be ready to step in again.

The Packers clinched the National Football League's Western Division championship with their 14-0 conquest of Baltimore Saturday.

Elijah Pitts will open again at halfback, even though Paul Hornung is well again, and Jim Taylor will hold down the fullback spot. But rookies Donny Anderson and Jim Grabowski are expected to play.

Eaton Accepts New Contract

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP)—Football Coach Lloyd Eaton of the University of Wyoming has agreed to a new contract to remain at the Cowboy gridiron helm through January 1970, with automatic renewal upon mutual consent into 1973.

The university's trustees announced Monday the contract signing but the amount of Eaton's contract was not made public.

Torres Defends Crown Friday

KAIMESHA LAKE, N.Y. (AP)—Jose Torres doesn't defend his light heavyweight championship against Tiger until Friday, but already Torres is talking about meeting Cassius Clay.

"I'm real serious about going after Clay," Torres said Monday here at his training headquarters for the Madison Square Garden fight.

"If I can knock out Tiger that will help me both for the fight of the year award and for a shot at Clay."

This business of knocking out Tiger, the former champion, is no small matter, though. In 71 fights, nobody has knocked out the Nigerian.

Torres, at 30, is seven years younger than Tiger and is a 3-1 favorite to win his fourth title defense of the year.

Card of Thanks

Groleau

Because we cannot thank each of you personally, we take this way of thanking the relatives, friends and neighbors who aided by acts of kindness and sympathy at the time of the sudden death of our dear husband, father and grandfather, Wilfred Groleau. We wish to thank Rev. Father Edward Malloy, Mr. and Mrs. John Skradski, pallbearers, all who sent cards, spiritual and floral bouquets. Those who donated food and served lunch, and who in any way helped to bear our sorrow. Your many acts of kindness will never be forgotten.

Mrs. Wilfred Groleau, James & Phyllis, Mr. & Mrs. Richard Groleau, Mr. & Mrs. Leonard Verbrugghe, Mr. & Mrs. John Flinn and Grandchildren

Dope Charges Follow Raids

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Five men were arraigned Monday on narcotics charges in connection with raids in Albion and Battle Creek Saturday which netted police a burlap bag of marijuana valued at several thousand dollars.

A total of 28 persons were arrested Saturday and Sunday when police raided two billiard halls in Battle Creek and an apartment in Albion.

Arraigned before Battle Creek Municipal Judge William Burke on charges of illegal sale of narcotics were George B. Wilkinson, 22, and James L. Shearer, 24, both of Battle Creek. Bond was set at $20,000 for both pending examination Dec. 20.

Arraigned on charges of possessing narcotics were Johnnie McCall, 28, of Grand Rapids, and Gerald Edmondson, 29, of Battle Creek. Bond was set at $20,000 for both pending examination Dec. 20.

The fifth man, Leo Davis, 26 of Albion, was charged with possessing narcotics. Examination was set for Dec. 12, and he was dismissed on his own recognizance.

American Can Helps Wisconsin Preserve Wolf

MADISON, Wis. — Another major step in assuring perpetuation of Wisconsin's Upper Wolf River has been taken with conservation commission approval of the purchase of 27,500 feet of frontage owned by the American Can Co. of Neenah. The purchase covers 291 acres and consists of frontage portions of a large tract managed for sustained timber production by the company. A substantial part of the price will be offset through an exchange of surplus state lands no longer needed for conservation purposes.

Approval for the Conservation department to acquire lands on a 34-mile stretch of the Upper Wolf River in Langlade County was given last June following a float-trip inspection by Governor Knowles and members of the conservation commission. The Upper Wolf River is highly regarded as an undeveloped white water stream affording excellent trout fishing and challenging rapids for canoeists.

The excellent timber management program carried on by the American Can Co. and its predecessor has so effectively preserved wilderness values that little or no development or restoration work will be required, the department said. In contrast, other sections have been extensively developed as cottage sites and wilderness values have suffered accordingly.

The American Can Co.'s tract is one of four large corporate holdings along the Upper Wolf River. Negotiations are currently under way with the other three and when completed will result in state control of nearly one-half the frontage within the project boundaries.

Santa and the Giant Fighter

By Lucrece Beale

Synopsis: Billy and Santa travel across the sea in a turtle boat. They visit three fabulous islands before they come to the Island of Jewels.

CHAPTER EIGHT THE ROSANNA RUBY

The turtle boat landed on the shores of the island Santa and Billy stepped out into a garden of jewels.

Emerald trees and diamond bushes and opal flowers bordered the walks of the garden. Sapphires and turquoise glittered in the grass. The precious stones sparkled in the sunlight and tinkled softly in the breeze.

A beautiful pixie came to meet them. She wore a pearl diadem on her head and a jade locket hung from her throat.

"Welcome," said the pixie. "I hope you like our garden."

"It is beautiful," said Santa. "But we do not have time to enjoy it."

He told her how Billy must slay Goko the giant because Goko had captured the Fairy Queen and the moon and vowed to capture Santa and rule all of Fairyland.

The pixie was very disturbed because this meant the giant would rule the Isle of Jewels, too. "What can I do?" she moaned.

Santa asked if she would give Billy the Rosanna Ruby. The pixie led them to the ruby grove and pointed to a brilliant stone.

"This is the fairest jewel on the Isle," she said. "I would gladly give it to you but it cannot be plucked from its branch unless Billy can solve a problem."

"What problem?" asked Billy eagerly.

"An arithmetic problem," said the pixie.

Billy sighed. Of all school subjects arithmetic had been the one he hated most. He had never done his lessons at all. He never believed a giant fighter would need arithmetic and spelling and boring things like that.

"What is the problem?" asked Santa.

The pixie said, "Billy has 24 apple pies. Billy eats thirteen. I eat one. You eat two. What is Billy left with?"

Billy got a stick and drew numbers in the dirt. He added and subtracted and crossed things out. He screwed up his face and chewed on his tongue and oh! how he wished he had paid attention at school.

Suddenly he had an answer. He cried, "If I had 24 apple pies and I ate thirteen and you ate one and Santa ate two I would be left with a stomach ache!"

The pixie held her sides and doubled up with laughter.

"That's not the answer I had in mind but it will do," she said and she plucked the ruby from its branch. She placed the stone in Billy's hands and said, "May this jewel help you slay the wicked giant!"

Then Billy and Santa climbed back into the turtle's upside down shell and sailed back across the sea to the land of the Harp Witch.

The witch had not been idle while they were gone. She had made a necklace out of the hairs from her own head woven with the webs of a hundred black widow spiders and the wool from the backs of a thousand caterpillars. She took the Rosanna Ruby and placed it carefully in the center of the band. It blazed with such flaming beauty it was certain the giant would not be able to resist it.

"But the band is so small," said Billy. "How will it fit around the giant's neck?"

The witch said the necklace would expand or shrink to fit any size and Billy must be careful not to wear it himself or it would work its magic on him.

Billy put it away in his pocket and Santa said he was ready to go fight Goko the giant. But the witch said, "What about all the other giants? Goko's brothers and his cousins and his nephews? They all live together in Goko's castle."

"What about them?" quavered Billy.

After 114 Years, Christmas Cards

CHICAGO (AP) — Inmates at the House of Correction — Chicago's city jail — will be allowed to send Christmas cards this year, for the first time, since the jail opened 114 years ago.

The inmates printed about 2,000 cards, which bear a picture of a wreath and a lantern, with a greeting printed inside.

Russian Roulette

DETROIT (AP) — A 19-year-old Detroit man was released from custody today after the fatal shooting of his girl friend during a game of Russian roulette. The prosecutor's office ruled that Pfc. Willie A. Smith accidentally shot his 17-year-old girl friend Jacqueline Jones Saturday.

Long To Probe Wiretap Flap

WASHINGTON (AP) — The wiretap flap between Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover will move into the arena of a Senate hearing next year.

Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., announced the scheduling Monday night.

Long, who has been investigating invasions of privacy by wiretappers and electronic snoopers since February 1965, is chairman of the Senate subcommittee on administrative practices and procedures.

At issue is who — Hoover or Kennedy — is telling the truth about who authorized the wiretapping and electronic eavesdropping which has jeopardized a host of federal prosecutions.

One of those cases on the endangered list involves Bobby Baker, former secretary to Senate Democrats and a friend of President Johnson.

Baker's case is concerned with nine charges of income tax evasion, larceny and conspiracy, and is now being heard in U.S. District Court here.

As for the two principals in the dispute, both Kennedy, a New York Democrat, and Hoover were practicing the silence-golden routine Monday night.
